Friendship

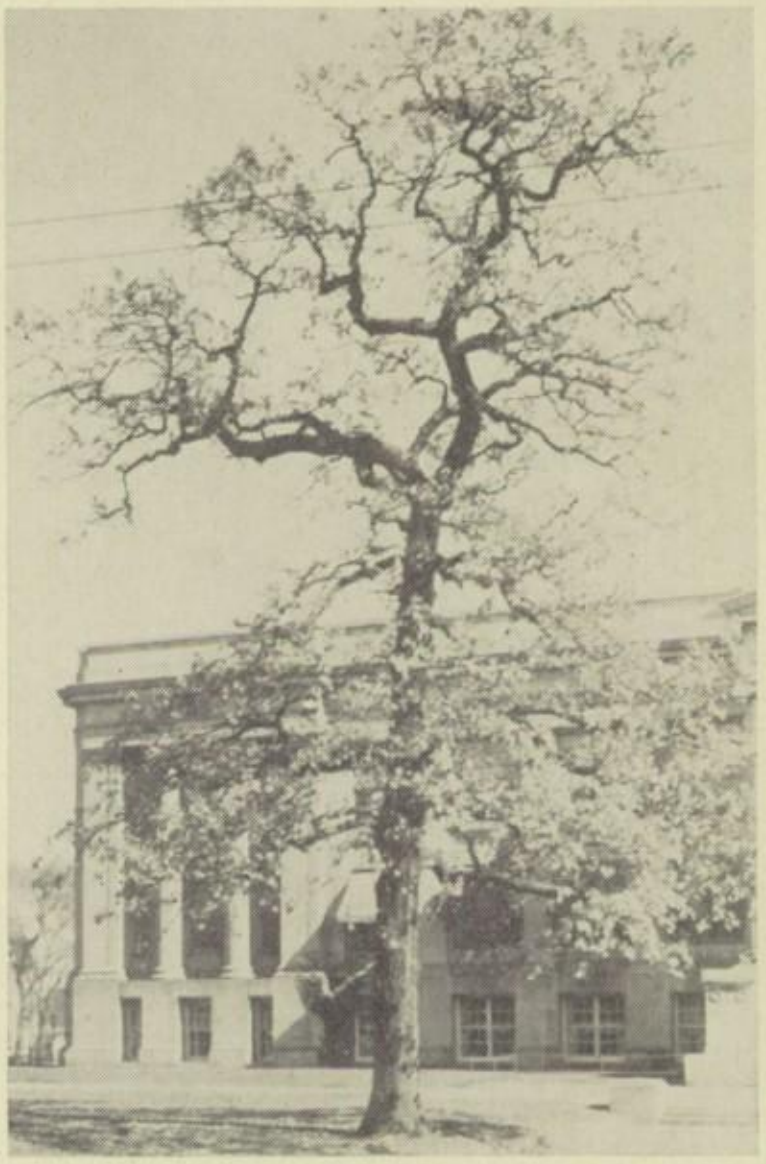
The lasting friendships we make in high school and the pleasure we obtain from "just getting together" are most important factors in our school life.

Loyalty

Between pillars of our front portico we see the flag. Here visualized are our loyalties to our country and to our school. During the recent war many East High graduates have made untold sacrifices in showing their loyalty to their country.

The Old Oak Tree

Pictured at the right is the old familiar oak tree that stands majestically at the entrance of our school. Students can often be seen studying or leisurely talking beneath its great branches.



Key to the Future

Here is our East High—dedicated to the Service of Humanity and devoted to the education of youth. This education is the key with which we graduate; prepared to open the door of the future.

I Meant to Do My Work Today

This morning I, like every other "East Higher", fully resolved to do my work.

Looking back, I find that my good intentions wavered along the way, but I really did mean to do my work today.

"Drooling over her own profile"

First Stops

In spite of my overwhelming ambition, I managed to find time to relax before I settled down to a strenuous day of intensive labor.

Among the various and sundry sights during my relaxation, I saw typical East High girls "drooling" over their own profile as they combed their beautiful hair.

Present day students continue East's famous old tradition of navigating the halls each morning before they go to home room.

There are always some students, of course, who have duties to perform and obligations to meet before they are free to relax.

The nurse's office is Stop No. 1 for many students. Others find it necessary to have a "confidential visit" with one of the advisors.

Home Room "Attention"

"A mellow assembly"

On to Class

This morning I became so interested in a handsome football player that I lost all track of time, only to be brought from the clouds by the silence enveloping the halls. The large clock told me I had only one minute to climb three flights of stairs.

With a wild dash I sped over several steps at once fairly confident that I would still be on time. However, Fate turned against me; as I reached the home room door, my books slipped from my arms. The tardy bell rang! I was late!

I tried to slip into home room unnoticed, only to discover all eyes were glued to the front of the room where the student council representative was giving an exciting report of school activities.

I was no more than calmly settled when I found myself in the midst of a terrible tumult. The assembly bell must have rung, for I was pushed along until I reached the auditorium.

After a mellow assembly I went on to class.

"A perplexing problem"

Study ? ? ?

Still in the spirit of the assembly, I found it difficult to come down to earth to study, but it wasn't long until I found myself absorbed in biology, my first hour class. We studied the various parts of the human body. Our most perplexing problem was to find if the human being really has brains. When I had almost solved that problem, the ringing of the bell announced time for my math class.

Oh! My aching head! Just thinking about the theorems, hypotheses and solutions of problems made me dizzy. Why did I ever take the course? I'm just saying that, for I really love math.

During art, I spent most of the time drawing appetizing dishes and "drooling" over them.

MENTAL VISIONS

Trying to get my mind from food, I turned my thoughts to the advantages which East High offers to students. Pictures flashed through my mind. I wondered what the girls in homemaking class were doing. Realizing that I shouldn't be thinking of food, I turned my thoughts to the equally interesting subject of men. The handsome ones in mechanical drawing captured my attention. I didn't allow my thoughts to remain there long, but one by one I covered the different departments in our school.

While my thoughts dwelt on history and English, I recalled that I had been too busy last night to do my home work. I really had meant to do it. However, I decided to drop the matter of neglected home work until I had eaten my lunch.

As the lunch bell rang, I gathered my last ounce of strength to reach the cafeteria. As usual the lunch line was packed, and many students were patting their best friends on the back reminding them of past favors.

After much confusion with silverware and trays, the students piled their plates, took a deep breath and hungrily devoured the contents on their trays.

After proper nourishment, the East Highers regained their lost strength and were ready for more action.

RELAXATION AND EXERCISE

Some negligent students remained in the lunch room to battle with neglected home work, hoping against hope that they would be able to complete their assignment for the next hour. Even though I should have joined their ranks, the out-of-doors beckoned me to come and enjoy the sunlight and fresh air.

A kaleidoscope of color struck my eye as I tripped down the steps. Brilliant sweaters and ties contributed to the colorful picture. Seeing a group of my friends on the lawn having a merry time, I sauntered over to join in the fun. Missing some of them, I realized that the exciting movie had lured them.

Amidst our chattering, music floated from an open window. Upon inquiry, I found it was the Christian Fellowship Club having their noontime devotions.

The untimely bell rang. It always breaks in at the wrong moment. Waving farewell and shouting last minute reminders, I reluctantly broke away and went to gym class where we went through a series of exercises. This was very good for losing excess weight, but it gave me stiff muscles.

Since many girls take an alternating course of gym and swimming, there were few in our class today.

Catnapping

The best class of the day rolled around at fifth hour. This was time for my cat nap. After having made a pretense of studying, I gave myself over to the sleepy atmosphere of study hall. Ambitious students, of whom East High has many, strolled into the library to do reference work or read for their own pleasure, but studying was not for me. I went to sleep, but there were no beautiful dreams for the guilty. I found myself alone in a large, cold, dismal room. One of my teachers had caught up with me. I had to labor over my neglected lessons. Why hadn't I done my work for today? The distant ringing of the bell broke into my delusion.

It was a little while before I came to my senses enough to realize where I was and that it was time to go home.

After piling myself with books, I trudged wearily out the door, burdened with thoughts of more homework. Everything outdoors was bustling with activity. All modes of transportation could be seen. The most up-to-date vehicles were the jeeps and the motor scooters. The most common type of transportation was "self-locomotion", namely walking. I was one of those unfortunates who were obliged to ride the bus. After much shoving and pushing, I finally managed to find adequate standing room.

Clubs "A rip-roaring time"

A NEW RESOLUTION

While riding along farther and farther away from scool, I came to the realization that tonight was club night and that I had forgotten in my rush to make the bus. I really regretted that I had forgotten because club nights are such fun. Last week we initiated some new members and had a "rip-roaring" time. Some of the initiates were blindfolded and had to feed each other spaghetti. What sights they were!

Well, I can enjoy dancing and eating at the school party tomorrow night. If only those boys would forget themselves and get out of that stag line, there would be fewer wallflowers.

Speaking of after-school activities, I was really sorry when the football season was over, for I think that is the very best time in the year.

There was a slight regret in my mind when I saw the first snow, for I realized that there would be no more home room picnics until next semester when the snow melted.

But that is enough precious time devoted to after-school activities; I must get down to business and concentrate on my lessons for tomorrow. Never again do I want to go through such a day as this has been. All day I was afraid that my sins would catch up with me, and I would be compelled to make up my long neglected work.

Anyhow, I have resolved to devote this evening to study. How much more pleasant it would be to be able to say at the end of the day, "I have done my work well today," instead of, "I meant to do my work today."

STUDENT COUNCIL

The representative of the entire student body is the student council. Each homeroom elects two students; one is the representative, the other the alternate. The officers who were elected to lead the council this semester are Stanley McClintock, president; Stanley Franklin, vice-president, and Jack Overturff, secretary.

The duty of the representative is to report to his homeroom the decisions of the council and carry back the opinions of the members of his homeroom.

The responsibility of conducting the business affairs of the various school activities is placed into the hands of the student council. In the course of this semester the students secured over 1200 P.T.A. memberships.

Other services rendered by the council were purchasing the school pins and pennants, planning the school parties and managing the numerous drives.

QUILL STAFF

The Quill is the result of a semester's work by thirteen senior students headed by Bob Dutton, editor-in-chief, and Ruth Martin, associate editor. The first few weeks the staff spent their time in studying reference books and in discussing the details of publishing the Quill. After the theme had been decided upon, the staff was divided into the following groups: Bob Dutton, Ruth Martin, Ted Boller, Elsie Mamo, Jim Gritton, seniors; Jo Anne Mitchell, Jeannette Heaberlin, introduction and advertising; Carolyn Bardole, Aileen Heath, school life; Barbara Moon, Elizabeth Mickelson, organizations; and Wallace Vance, Bob Rydell, sports. These students must plan the layout, arrange for photographs, and write copy for their particular section. Assisting the staff were Ed Deskin, Jim Green, Jerry Graves, photographers; and Joann Womelsdorf, Irene DuBois, typists. The advisers for the Quill were Kenneth Stratton, editorial; Harriet Macy, art; Leslie Olsen, business; and Charles Springate, advertising.

SCROLL STAFF

Every other week the students of East High receive the Scroll published by the second semester journalism class. In the Scroll the readers find human interest stories, good feature stories, and interesting editorials, as well as the schedules of future musical, dramatic and athletic events.

This year the Scroll, which is under the editorship of Hazel Hedberg, was awarded the All-American honor rating by the National Scholastic Press association. One of the factors contributing to this high rating is the new style of type now being used for all headlines. Few students realize the tremendous amount of energy that must be expended before the Scroll reaches their hands. The pages must be laid out, and the articles must be written and corrected. After the finished Scroll is returned from the printer, it must be delivered to the subscribers. The faculty advisers are Kenneth Stratton, editorial; Harriet Macy, art; and Leslie Olsen, business.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The A Cappella choir, under the direction of Miss Sigrid Greenhill, is the most advanced and active vocal music organization of East High.

As in past years, the choir has been in demand for assemblies and special programs. The outstanding program given by the choir this semester was the Christmas Nativity. Other appearances were before the East Des Moines club and the Rotary club. Also a recording was made by the choir which was later transcribed over KRNT.

SPECIAL GROUPS

With only one former member the girls' sextet had the task of learning to blend well together. They have appeared on the Nativity program and before the city P.T.A.

The boys' quartet this semester has two of its old members back. Their prominent programs were for the state P.T.A. convention and the students of North High, besides the many times they have sung for programs here.

We thank both of these groups for their splendid singing.

ORCHESTRA

Small but mighty is a description of our admirable orchestra. Under the direction of Mr. Marlin Morette, the orchestra provides fine music for the enjoyment of all.

The outstanding appearances of the orchestra this year were for the school play, commencement exercises and class night.

The orchestra presents a splendid opportunity for those students who wish to develop their technique and appreciation for classical music.

BAND

Lending inspiration at the football games, assemblies, and various gatherings is the East High band, a group of hard-working musicians.

The one who spurs them on is Mr. Marlin Morette, the likeable director, who is new with the band this semester.

We heartily extend our thanks to you for the wonderful way you have contributed toward the spirit of East High. We, the students, are proud of you.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

To secure training for more advanced music classes many girls are enrolled in the Girls' Glee club under the direction of Miss Sigrid Greenhill.

In the glee club they have an opportunity to develop their voices and learn to blend their voices with each other. This semester the group has been working on a large variety of songs ranging from old classical to modern numbers. Arlene Allan has been assisting at the piano.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

One class which is enjoyed not only by its members but by the entire student body is the Boys' Glee club.

Included in their programs for this semester was the concert for the state P.T.A. convention at the library.

Throughout the past semester the boys have developed the quality of their voices and sense of pitch through the training they have received in glee club.

Movie Operators

While the other students are enjoying the movie, behind the scenes the operators are faithfully performing their duties. They not only operate the noon movie but also films that are shown in the classrooms. Their services are much appreciated by the students of our school.

ELECTRICIANS
Dick Peterson, Jack Chinn, Richard Bevan, Bob Darrah.

Electricians

One group that is not viewed by the public but which deserves much credit is the electricians who are using their skill to assist the school. Under the direction of Mr. Wilbur Yount they are responsible for the lighting effects of the programs given throughout the year.

Miss Helmreich's Messengers

Every period several girls leave study hall for the purpose of collecting absence slips from all the classrooms. The absence slips are then put in the teachers' boxes. The first hour messengers must also gather the attendance records and deliver them to the advisers. We thank these groups for their service.

Stagehands and Movie Helpers

The stagehands under the supervision of Mr. Yount take care of the stage settings used for different events throughout the semester. The movie helpers are girls who collect the money and act as monitors. Everyone wants to thank these two hard working groups for a job well done.

COLORFUL ADDITIONS

Let us visualize the period between halves at a football game. Flags fly, batons twirl, and whistles blow as down the field comes the band. Marching in front is the resplendent color guard carrying the United States flag and the East High banner. These four girls create an impressive sight as they bear the colors.

Our eyes next catch the sight of our high-stepping drum major, Harlan Gee, who conducts the band in their formations. He makes a stirring picture with his white-plumed hat.

Gazing on we behold the seven majorettes in flaming scarlet and white. They make a pleasing scene as they twirl their batons through the air.

The skill of these three colorful additions is the result of much practice.

THE TORCHBEARERS

A play within a play was the plot of "The Torchbearers", a three-act comedy presented at the East High audtorium. The excellent cast under the direction of Mrs. Juniata Laser, our capable dramatics teacher, was headed by Charles Montgomery, Bonnie Bean, Judy Green, and Bernadine Haltom. Behind the scenes are the wardrobe girls who throughout the semester care for our costumes used in plays and assemblies.

CLUB PRESIDENTS

One of the most enjoyable extra curricular activities is being a member of a club. Every student has the opportunity of joining two organizations, a mixed club, and a boys' and girls' club. Each one has a teacher as an adviser who guides them in their numerous projects. A great deal of the success of a club is due to the ability and leadership of its officers.

LIBRARY STAFF

The library staff, which is directed by Miss Carrie Larson, our school librarian, is selected from a list of applicants. The members of the staff must relinquish their study hour to do this service.

The duties of the staff include assisting the students in finding reference material, checking books out, seeing that they are returned when due, and keeping the library in order. The boys in the bookroom who check out text books to classrooms are also members of the staff.

CLERICAL STAFF

The duties performed by the clerical staff not only greatly relieve the work of the regular office force, but also offer valuable office experience to the members of the staff. This group consists of girls who are selected from the various classes of the commercial department.

As workers in the office of Mr. Prichard, Mr. Williams, Miss Helmreich, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. McGaffee, they answer the phone, take dictation, type, file, mimeograph, circulate special bulletins and run errands.

Roosevelt Knots East 6-6

Roosevelt, scoring in the last two minutes of play, tied East High, 6 to 6, before a crowd of 10,000 at Drake Stadium. Paul Erickson scored on a quarterback sneak with eight minutes of the first quarter gone. A pass from Bob Peters to Don Johnson for the extra point was no good because of a penalty. On the second try, Bob Sherod's drop kick was low. Halliburton passed to Pugh for the Roosevelt tally. Lecky, Evans, Schmidt, and O'Boyle were standouts.

Fort Dodge Beats Scarlet 14-6

Starting out early, Fort Dodge conquered East 14 to 6 at Fort Dodge. Two blocked punts caused the downfall of the Lee townshippers. Buckner went across first and Wold passed for the extra point. Buckner tallied again in the second quarter and the extra point was made. East's only touchdown was made by Bob Shepherd, who caught a pass in the third quarter. East's line held and the Dodgers were unable to score in the second half.

Mason City Drubs East 21-0

Mason City upset East in a Big Seven tilt. Mason City scored in the last 25 seconds of the first half with a touchdown and extra point. Bob Peters carried a pass to the Mohawks' 25 but the gun sounded. The Mohawks scored a touchdown and extra point in each of the last two quarters to make the score 21-0.

Polar Bears Trample East 26-6

North High crushed Lee Township's hopes of tying Roosevelt for the City Series, 26-6. Dick Massey scored first on a 74 yard run in the first quarter. East was on North's 5 just as the half ended. Coming back in the third quarter, Paul Erickson tossed an 11 yard pass to Bob Peters to tie things up. With five minutes remaining, Titus recovered an East High fumble on the 8 and Rocky Gabriel went across the goal. Gabriel kicked the extra point to make it 13 to 6. Gabriel then made another touchdown and extra point. Don Prior made the last touchdown on a 60 yard runback of a punt.

East Sinks Waterloo 18-13

East started its Big Seven competition by winning from a strong East Waterloo Eleven 18 to 13. John Hollinsworth started Waterloo's scoring by racing 14 yards. Jim Formaro, East fullback intercepted a pass on the Trojan 20 and tied it up. In the third quarter, Stanley McClintock made a touchdown by grabbing a Waterloo lateral and running 38 yards. Commack came back for the Trojans and ran a touchdown and extra point to put Waterloo ahead 13 to 12. Bob Peters then reeled off 69 yards making the score 18-13.

Valley Conquered 24-0

East High started out in fine stride by whipping Valley High, 24-0. A safety was scored in the first quarter. Bob Sherod drop kicked a field goal from the 22 and converted an extra point later on. Paul Erickson grabbed a punt and raced for pay dirt in the third quarter. Bill Dunagan and Dick Eisenlauer each added a touchdown. The team showed great promise in the first game of the season.

East Takes Lincoln 9-0

Starting out with its City Series play, the Scarlet bounced Lincoln 9 to 0 at Drake Stadium. In the second quarter, Lincoln, deep in their own territory, had a punt blocked by Volineer and Tungland. The ball rolled outside in the end zone and became an automatic safety. With 45 seconds left in the first half, Bob Sherod lateraled to Bob Peters. Peters threw a forward to Sherod who lateraled to Jack Grossnickle. Grossnickle then ran 40 yards for the touchdown.

Dowling Wins 13-6

East High suffered their first defeat at the hands of Dowling High, 13-6. In the first quarter Meston went over from the 6 yard line for a touchdown. Hitchins converted for Dowling. In the second quarter East High came back with Peters going over from six inches out. Jerry Groom, Dowling center, blocked Sherod's drop kick. Later in the second quarter, Meston raced 68 yards for Dowling's final touchdown. The place kick was made, and the half ended.

Oskaloosa Falls 12-0

Using practically all of his men, Coach Webb led East to victory over Oskaloosa, 12-0, at the East Stadium. The regulars were used only long enough to score the touchdowns. Bob Peters raced 21 yards for a marker. After a sustained drive of 80 yards, Bill Dunagan went through from the Osky 21 to score a touchdown.

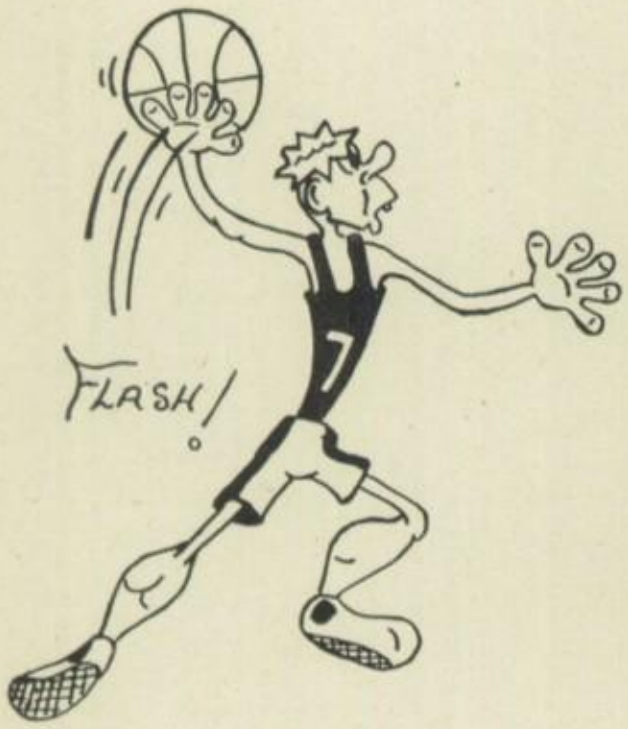
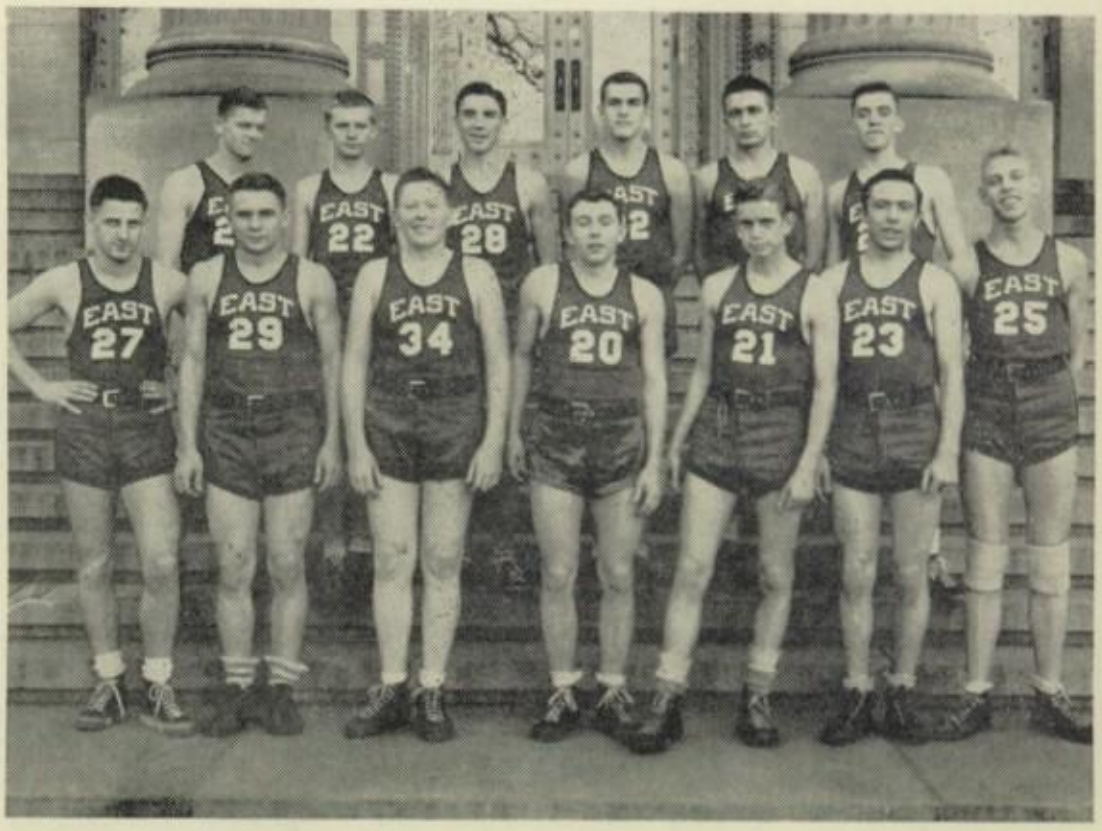
SECOND SQUAD FOOTBALL

The Canaries, as the second squad is fondly referred to, have had a good season. They have played nine games this season, winning every one. Under Mr. Charles Gregory, their coach, they have done a good job of not only representing East High but also in scrimmaging against the first squad.

East High's Canaries have scored 130 points against only 18 for their opposition. This would, it seems, make hopes of a very good first squad next year as this is really the prime reason for having a second squad. The team as a whole is to be commended for their fine record this past year. This, of course, means that East High's second squad are the City Champs. Among their formidable foes this year were North, Lincoln, Tech, Roosevelt and Newton.





Row 1: Heyer, Erickson, Phillips, Sisam, Morrissey, Turner, Alam; Row 2: Thomas, Nichols, Parsons, Egly, Johnson, Michelson.

SECOND TEAM BASKETBALL

These are the boys who practice playing basketball every afternoon. Teamwork, cooperation, and fair play are only a few of the many essentials put into use by the team. The boys have gained their positions on the second team by showing promise in tryouts. The second team for the 1946-47 season is coached by Wendell Webb. As the Quill went to press, the team was, as yet, untried but showed great promise in practice.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

These men are the members of East High's varsity basketball squad. This sport is second only to football as East High's major athletic activity. Under the leadership of Mr. Webb these fellows are learning new defensive tactics as well as offensive. With one of the largest turnouts in years Coach Webb has a lot of new material along with returning fellows from last year's two squads. There are about 5 returning letter men this year to carry the brunt of the work.

Row 1: Thornton, West, McIntyre, Marsh, Pratt, Reece, Worley, Brown; Row 2: Ward, Sandin, Lantz, Phipps, Kline.

COACHES

These are the coaches who lead our teams to victory. The coaches and their activities are Gus Rump, boys' and girls' golf; Raymond Gewerth, boys' tennis; Wendell Webb, football, track, and basketball; Charles Gregory, Wrestling, second football; Miss Helen Spencer, girls' tennis, G.A.A.; Scotty Russell, Swimming; John Bell, football; and Kenneth Stratton, cheer leaders. Coach Webb, who takes the place of "Mike" Augustine, is new to East High. John Bell, who has taught here before, returned from the service.

ATHLETIC MANAGERS

The industrious looking young men pictured here are the athletic managers. To some people they are known as the "Cage Monkeys." They stay after school until all hours getting the equipment ready and helping the players. They are supervised by Gus Rump, the physical education director. All deserve much praise.

SWIMMING

The boys on the swimming team may be seen over in the pool paddling for all they're worth. They practice all the strokes in order to have better coordination. Coach Scotty Russell does a swell job of managing the boys in spite of inadequate swimming facilities. We all wish them a successful season.

WRESTLING

The wrestling team may be heard grunting and groaning over at the gym whenever the team gets together to practice tearing each other apart. Several lettermen bolster Coach Gregory's squad as a tough schedule is ahead of the wrestling team. As always they will come through and hold their own.

CHEERLEADERS

These are the boys who have led the cheering of our assemblies, games, etc. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Kenneth Stratton and the leadership of Louis Smith, the captain, they have done a fine job. Not only do these boys lead the cheers but they are leaders in other activities also.

CROSS COUNTRY

These are the members of the cross country squad. They work out after school running to improve their wind, stride, etc. Although it is possible to letter in cross country, most of the boys are out working to get, and stay, in condition for wrestling, track, and some for basketball.

GOLF

These boys constitute the golf team. They spend many long hours practicing and training to improve their game. Under the sponsorship of Coach Gus Rump, they will go out in the rain and pelt the pill for dear old East High. The golf team has made fine progress this year.

Row 1: Bob Peterson, John Madison, Elmore Collins, Ronald Sass, Gordon Jay Leaming; Row 2: Burt Thompson Johnie Phillips, James Booth, Derald Leaming.

BOYS' TENNIS

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Gewerth, these fellows comprise our boys' tennis squad. Although tennis is one of the lesser sports engaged in at East High, these boys have done a good job of representing our school. At city meets and various other tournaments thruout the state they have won their share of trophies.

G.A.A.

These are the officers of the Girls' Athlet association, not all of the girls who participate. Girls may obtain points toward their letter by swimming, playing basketball, volley ball, baseball, hiking, or walking, and various other activities. These girls' activities are under the sponsorship of the Girls' Physical Education teacher, Miss Helen Spencer.

Marianna Shend, Dora Struth, Barbara Duvall, Insert: Beverly Kessell.

GIRLS' TENNIS

These girls, under the sponsorship of Miss Helen Spencer, are the members of East High's girls' tennis team. These girls practiced at Amos Hiatt Junior High after school every night and some on their own. Although they didn't place in the city meet this year, they have high hopes for next.

Row 1: Mary Anne Shockley, Alice Frompton, Betty Borthwick, Elizabeth Mickelson; Row 2: Shirley Mendenhall, Marilee Goodrich, Norma Knudsen, Ruthellen Humphrey.

GIRLS' GOLF

The girls' golf team, working hard to improve its game, contains a lot of hard working girls this year. Coach Gus Rump started the season off with a large group of girls, some inexperienced, with the thought of having a more experienced group next year. They have had a fine season.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the most remarkable of all East High graduating classes, the class of January, 1947, being of sound mind and body, do hereby declare this our last will and testament.

To all succeeding graduates of East High, we bequeath the opportunities for success we have attained, the memories of happiness and friends we have enjoyed, and the spirit to carry on for "Dear East High."

Irene Bell wills a portion of her dependability to Beverly Adair.

Roy Doop leaves his peppy cheerleading to Johnnie Rex.

Bernadine Haltom bestows upon Marjorie Clemens some of her acting ability, which Marjorie really doesn't need.

Al DeBakey wills his neat appearance to Bill Green.

Shirley Griffiths leaves her sister, Pat, to keep the boys happy.

Eddie Norem and David Ward leave the boys' quartet, wondering if it will ever find as capable replacements.

Ralph and Darlene leave just as they came —together.

Ruth Martin wills her ability to make friends to Dolores Twedt.

Jack Sargent leaves his ping pong paddle to Roger Hartung.

Evalynne Gelenbeck wills her sweetness to Betty Jo Kalny.

Jack Overturff leaves his ability to do whatever he pleases in school to Stan McClintock.

Elsie Mamo leaves with Lillis Bloom her naturally curly hair. (Won't Elsie look funny?)

Paul Bosholm leaves his "gift of gab" to Charles Montgomery.

Hazel Hedberg bequeaths her Scroll-editing abilities to Mr. Stratton's next victim.

Isabel Bain wills her blushing to Bill (Red Light) Evans.

Carl Nielsen leaves his crazy cracks to Dickie Eisenlauer.

Marilyn Metcalf bequeaths her captivating charm to Jessica Weiss.

Ed Deskin throws his cameras to Jim Green.

Bob Dutton leaves. (Too bad girls! Better luck next time.)

Patsy McKee passes on her good naturedness to Jean Moore. (Why? She's O. K. now.)

Louise Gans bequeaths her athletic prowess to Beverly Fisher.

Ted Boller wills his intelligence to anyone who is capable of handling it.

Jeannette Heaberlin shares her popularity with Madonna (Edna Bird) Casson (and maybe the class funds, too, since she's treasurer.)

Eddie Biddison bequeaths his nice manners to some of the boys who certainly can use them! (I agree—typist).

Shirley Jeffers leaves her cute pep to Clara London.

The Senior-A Quill staffers regretfully (?) leave Mr. Stratton to the mercy of the next year book staff.

Harlan Gee bequeaths his musical talents to Butch Reynolds. (This gift includes the direction of Professor Gee's band.)

Phyllis Gray perhaps will give some of her cuteness to Rae Lyman. (Wait your turn, fellas.)

Larry Press wills his smooth dancing to Gene Lawler.

To Milre Baker, Eleanor Johnson bequeaths her attractiveness. (Ooooh, some people have everything.)

Ramon Castellano just leaves it all—with pleasure.

Betty McNeley bequeaths her cute smile to Elizabeth Mickelson.

Stanley Franklin leaves his high office to the June class president.

Peggy Goldfarb shares some of her darling clothes (strictly from Vogue) with Polly Hansen.

Dale Smith and Don Baird take with them their technique with women. (Wow!)

Joan Womelsdorf leaves to join her Don. (Good luck, kids!)

Norma Schattauer leaves just a small portion of her singing ability to Bonnie Bean, because Bonnie has quite a bit already.

Rex Hild wills his beautiful eyes to Bill Stone.

Inez Johnson passes on her quiet manner to Lillian Hayashi.

Kathleen Barnes leaves her artistic ability to Charmion Hindal.

Judy Green bestows her M.C. directing upon Mary Anne Shockley.

Therefore in witness thereof, we, the class of January, 1947, do sign our last will and testament, and do instruct the recipients to appreciate full well the obligations incurred.

CLASS PROPHECY

It was an unusual watch! The most beautiful one in the class, I shrieked. At last, I had received my much longed-for graduation present. During the following week, I watched each of the 10,080 minutes tick by; and with each glance, I proudly displayed my shiny new Elgin.

Saturday night—and home alone with only my radio, magazine, and apple for company, I could find little consolation—even in my elegant Elgin. The lonely cuckoo struck eight, as I began to wind carefully when—Heavens!! the tiny hands were spinning wildly; and I had the strangest sensation. It was then I knew that—this was an unusual watch.

Honestly, you'll never believe it, because I hardly do even now. There before me stood an adorable golden-clad pixie. "Sent by Lady Elgin," he explained, and "instructed to grant the owner of this watch any wish his heart desires."

Through my brain flashed visions of luscious angora sweaters, dreamy formals, tan males with blond butches, shiny convertibles—oh! what was my very dearest wish? Then, I knew! Breathlessly, I asked if I might share Father Time's precious secret—the future of the class of January, '47.

Glancing at my faithful watch, I hastily snatched my mink from my maid, Mary Russell, and slid dizzily down the banister into the waiting arms of John Borg, the butler. John, who was wearing roller skates at the time, whizzed outside and flash! I was in my slinky Studebaker directing the chauffeur, Don Baird, to the famous KRNT Radio Theater. Softly humming "Oh Come All You'se Hepcats," Shirley Mason's latest hit, I picked up a magazine lying on the seat beside me. Hmm! A dazzling Drene ad. The latest hairdo—a double fan-shaped curl modeled by our own Irene DuBois and Joann Womelsdorf. I've not forgotten their lovely locks in all these ten years. Oh, yes, the Drene company is sponsoring a new serial, the "Drene Hornet," written and produced by Carl Nielsen and starring Paul Bosholm and Patsy McKee. (Speaking of cereals, have you tried Kinley's Krackle Krunchies with Cornelison's Cream?) I needed music! I tuned my walkie talkie, what did I get? That popular program featuring the clever commentator, James Gritton. Flash! Betty Mason has been signed as vocalist with Harlan Gee's band. Hot off the press!! It is rumored that Muriel Keller's new novel will be filmed soon.

Amid the huge crowd of first nighters, I frantically squeezed toward the box office where I found Shirley Younker, Isabel Bain, Shirley Griffiths, Phyllis Gray and Norma Dodd looking oh! so glamourous. Everyone agreed, during intermission, that Bernadine Haltom and Judy Green were terrific in their leading roles. Mmm! There's Hazel Hedberg interviewing that famous engineering executive, Bob Dutton. Lucky gal! Ooops—gotta dash 'cause I'm due at the Hotel Fort Des Moines, pronto.

Handing my purty, engraved invitation to Dale Smith, ('nuther butler) I tripped over to see the hostess, Bev Kessell. The party was a great success—the first reunion of the bums and chums of '47.

Whoa, horse—whoa! Hmm—now who but Jack Overturff would arrive with his two hairy horses, neat Lil Abner shoes, and one—guess who? Marilyn, still adorable, has promised to do a vocal solo. Reminds me of the time she wore that darling "kid" costume and sang at the senior party. Discussing philosophy (or sumphin') are the brains of the universe. They are Vera DeVries, Virginia Desch, Darlene Elliott, and Frances Fillman. My! how they used to fascinate me with their brilliant answers—when I wasn't napping!

Evalynne Galenbeck had everyone spellbound with her lovely creation—one of those exclusive "Gowns by Galenbeck." While Elsie Mamo played her famous composition, I tuned in the latest gossip on my pearl earring (new invention). Back in the corner, rumor has it, Roy Doop, Davy Ward, Eddie Norem and Ted Boller are still trying to master "Doop's Drop." (without the flop!) Ralph and Darlene, as inseparable as ever, are sipping punch along with Vera Southard, Virginia DePasse, Irene Bell, and Marjorie Truman. With a few farewell tears, the party dissolves, leaving me with only Don and the Drene ad and my slinky Studebaker.

And that, future seniors, is what happened to me one lonely Saturday night. So-o-o, next time you find yourself alone, with only your radio, magazine, and apple, simply take out your bright new Elgin—and wish! For, dear readers, you too, may have a "very unusual watch!"

FACULTY

The East High faculty is a group that a tenth grader looks upon in horror, and an eleventh grader looks upon as a group of friendly, cooperative advisers. The faculty are the unsung heroes of the noted spirit of East High school; they also carry forth our many ideas. They are responsible for our many opportunities and memories. The tireless energy of the faculty is a great asset to our school.

Every good organization must have a leader, a man upon whose shoulders the responsibility for the school can be placed with confidence; East High school's man is Mr. O. G. Prichard, our principal. Mr. Prichard directs all the activities of the school during the year to help raise East High to a glorious new level. He deserves all the praise and consideration that the student body can give him.

Mr. D. Q. Williams is our vice-principal and boys' adviser. Some of his jobs are to help arrange sports schedules, advise the boys in their problems, and to assist Mr. Prichard. Mr. Williams is a key man with this school's activities. As a boy's adviser he is tops. The troubles of the girls and the social problems of the school are then settled by the capable Miss Agnes Helmreich. She arranges and carries forth the social schedule not only of the seniors but the entire school.
